Did you know?

Our musicians have invested a great deal of time in perfecting their art! To maintain a superior performance level takes dedication to the craft and that means practice! Aside from their performances the musicians must put several hours per day into maintaining and advancing their artistic abilities. Their profession demands it and their passion provides the energy to create!

Our musicians have at least one college degree in music. Most have their masters and some have their doctoral degrees. Including their college training, our musicians have at least another 8 years of training on their instruments and the string players have up to 8 more years of training. For some that means a total of 20 years of training before they ever go pro!

Our musicians perform regularly with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, Indianapolis Chamber Orchestra, Ft. Wayne Philharmonic and the orchestras of Lafayette, Richmond, Marion, Muncie, Anderson and with a myriad of other orchestras, artists and venues. They also perform regularly in the recording studios for publishers and artists from all over the world.

There are plenty of student and part-time musicians out there who will gladly underbid us for your business. They simply do not have the experience that even comes close to matching ours. Would you hire a student or weekend-warrior to make your dress? Want a full-time accountant to make your cake? Do you want a trainee to cater your reception? How about having someone with an iPod and a sound system dj your reception and not know how to work a crowd? How about a student photographer? Do you want to risk your visual memories on someone who is cheaper than the next guy with a digital camera? You can hire them and take your chances on their performance abilities and worry about whether they will be on time, dressed appropriately or, you can hire us and know that we have literally performed for hundreds of weddings and have years of experience behind us.

Our fees include the time necessary to help you make decisions regarding your choice of musicians and the music you would like to hear on your wedding day.

To book with us:

- Contact us to make sure the date, time and soloist or ensemble is available.
- A contract will be written and sent to you. Musicians will be secured when Powell Music has received a signed contract and a deposit.
- An initial consultation will be scheduled to discuss the details regarding the music for the event. Preferably, all music would be finalized one month prior to the event.
